WORKING HARDER to Keep You Healthier

The key to a great competition is preparation.

Learning to practice the right things right is the most significant first step to having a successful competition. Incorporating hill work, cavaletti work, and jumping not only challenges your horse's intellect, but it also ensures a well-rounded fitness regime.

Likewise, at St. Luke's, we know that we need to practice the right things right to become a better hospital. It's been arduous work, but we've earned 5-Stars for patient experience. There are 6,146 hospitals in the United States. And we are one of only 266 hospitals nationwide to make this distinction.

The intentional practice has made us a much better hospital. Compare for yourself at medicare.gov/hospitalcompare/search.html

TESTIMONIALS Tryon.com/Testimonials

Kristen Vander Veen, Jumping

“Tryon is like our second home. We always love the facility. It’s set up really nicely. The grounds are great, and the lakes are great to have around here, too. Overall, I think it’s just one of the best horse shows in the US, to be able to show a horse at a high level and enjoy your time. I am looking forward to coming back!”

Kent Farrington, Jumping

“The footing feels great! It’s much better. It’s a little more loose and forgiving for the horses. I think that’s best. The closer you are to a natural ground like grass, the better. It feels good to get off the property, [too]. We’re lucky that we do a sport that’s outdoors, and we can practice safe social distancing and still continue on somewhat of a path.”

Augusta Iwasaki, Hunters

“[My experience here] has been fantastic. I did the Medal Finals last week and that was really fun. I think [TIEC] is great. It’s very big, there’s a lot of things to do, and there’s a lot of food places. At most horse shows, you have to eat the same thing everyday, and there’s a little bit of everything here. Plus, there are shops, and there’s plenty of rings and space for everything.”

Doug Payne, Eventing

“To me, it’s one of the best, if not the best venue, in the country, and we’re very lucky to have the opportunity to ride here. Having the CCI 4*-L National Championship is just a huge, huge asset, not just for the riders and horses, but also for Tryon. There’s a great opportunity now, which is really exciting. We live reasonably close and we’re here a bit, so we’re a bit biased, but we’re happy to see it succeed.”

Rebecca Hart, Para-Dressage

“This venue is very special to me because of the World Equestrian Games™ where we got the silver and bronze. He [Tex] loved this venue and was so comfortable here. They really pulled it together and did a very nice job.”

Boyd Martin, Eventing

“I think Tryon is one of the best venues in the world ... they’ve got the facility, the willpower, and the passion to put on a really, really good show. I’ve been lucky enough to compete all over the world, and I’ve never seen so many people pull together to make the conditions fair for the horses ... it’s an unbelievable facility in all three phases. It’s the ultimate destination.”

Elisabeth Halliday-Sharp, Eventing

“This is an outstanding venue, and I’d say it’s one of the best in the world, undeniably. I can’t think of anywhere better. The efforts that everyone put in was truly Herculean to make everything run. I’ve not actually ever experienced any event that put that much true grit and effort into making things run the best they could for the horses. And in terms of the arena, it feels like you’re at a championship here, so I truly hope [this is a regular] event going forward; I cannot think of anywhere that could deliver it like Tryon did.”

Julio Mendoza Looor, Dressage

“It’s a very good show, and very organized. I brought six horses and had eight students, too. Tryon for me is one of the favorite shows. Even the staff enforcing that everyone was wearing masks – they were really nice, very polite. They were very professional, and that was super.”

Katherine Bateson Chandler, Dressage

“It’s an amazing venue. This is truly a world-class venue with beautiful stabling, which always really matters to us. The footing here is perfect, and the staff has been great. We stayed in one of the cabins here, so that was really fun. We just brought our bikes and didn’t have to worry about driving back and forth, and always had a place to eat every night, so you can’t beat that!”

Misdee Wrigley-Miller, Driving

“Number one, the barn facilities are the best I’ve ever seen at a show facility – the safety of the barns – it’s all top, top class. There’s no question that the venue is just absolutely gorgeous. We were going along by the creek today and it’s very soothing to hear the creek – it’s like a zen fountain!”

THE SPECTATOR'S GUIDE

To Equestrian Competition

HUNTER/JUMPER HORSE SHOWS

A Hunter/Jumper horse show is a three to five-day event made up of many mini-events that take place in the show rings each day, called classes. There are three main class categories: Show Jumpers, Hunters, and Equitation. Classes are further subdivided by rider age and experience level, skill of the horse, size or age of the horse or pony, etc., all of which determine what size and type of a fence the horses and riders will jump.

HUNTERS

Hunt seat competitions are based upon elegant traditions arising from the foxhunt. Hunters differ from Jumpers because they are judged on the style, movement, and technical proficiency of the horse and rider within the constraints of the set course design. Hunters should display jumping ability, manners, style, an even pace, and quality.

FEI

Fédération Équestre Internationale (FEI) is based in Lausanne, Switzerland and is the governing body for all Olympic equestrian disciplines.

GRAND PRIX SHOW JUMPING

Jumping is the best-known and is also one of the three Olympic equestrian sports, along with Dressage and Eventing. As in all equestrian sports, men and women compete on equal terms. Grand Prix Show Jumping is the highest and most challenging level of Jumping competition. Riders compete over a set course of obstacles as tall as 1.60 meters (5.25 feet) in height. They must clear all of the fences without knocking down a rail and within the time allowed in order to return for the second round, also known as the “jump-off,” and be the fastest with the least faults to win.

GUIDE TO SHOW JUMPING SCORING

Penalties in Show Jumping competitions are referred to as “faults.” Knocking down a rail or pole on a jump is 4 faults, as is the first refusal at a fence. Falls and going off-course result in elimination, as does a second refusal.

Show Jumping Faults and Penalties:

- Knocking over a jump or rail: 4 faults
- Refusing a jump: 4 faults
- Two Refusals OR Rider Fall: Eliminated
- Time Allowed: 1 fault for every second or portion thereof over the designated time allowed

CONCOURS DE SAUT INTERNATIONAL - CSI

CSI is the ranking system for Show Jumping. CSI is broken down into a starring system, with higher prize money the higher number of stars: e.g. CSI 5* prize money is over $300,000.

EVENTING

Eventing, one of the three Olympic equestrian disciplines, is a formidable combination of Dressage, Cross-Country, and Show Jumping, done over two or three days and with the same horse for each phase of competition. Often known as the triathlon of the equestrian world, Eventing is a sport that tests both the horse and rider in all aspects of horsemanship and athleticism.

CONCOURS DE DRESSAGE INTERNATIONAL-CDI

CDI notes the ranking system for Dressage with the same starring system as for Show Jumping.

PARA-DRESSAGE

Para-Dressage is conducted under the same basic rules as conventional Dressage, but with riders divided into different competition grades based on functional abilities. There is no greater evidence of the incredible bond, trust and communication between horse and rider than in Para-Dressage. This Paralympic sport is a humbling reminder of the strength of the human spirit.

DRESSAGE

Dressage is a competitive equestrian sport, defined by the Federation Equestre Internationale (FEI) as “the highest expression of horse training.” The rider will be relaxed and appear effort-free while the horse willingly performs the requested movement. In modern Dressage competition, successful training at the various levels is demonstrated through the performance of “tests,” which include a prescribed series of movements ridden within a standard arena. The Freestyle is specially choreographed and performed to music.

DRIVING

Like the sport of Eventing, but with a horse-drawn carriage, the sport of Driving tests a handler’s skills over three phases - Dressage, Marathon, and Cones - in Singles, Pairs, and Four-in-hand divisions. This sport demands horse-and-driver communication, finesse, and teamwork through three challenging phases of competition.

MOUNTED GAMES

Often set up in relay race formats, this fast-paced sport emphasizes horsemanship, balanced riding, teamwork, precision, and speed! Mounted Games events usually feature but are not limited to junior riders and ponies. From balloon popping to egg-and-spoon relays or pole bending, horse-and-rider pairs need to work together through multiple tests to come out on top.

EQUITATION

Equitation competition is offered for junior and amateur riders and is judged based on the style and form of the rider. Horses are not judged in this discipline, but successful riders will ensure that their horses are well behaved. Riders can be judged over fences or on the flat.

AMERICAN HOBBY HORSE SERIES

For Kids Who Love Horseless Horse Showing

A favorite at TIEC on Saturday nights in July and October, competitive hobby horsing originated in Finland and has more than 10,000 active participants around the globe. Open to any participants under the age of 14, all that's required for this horse-less sport is a hobby horse, a toy consisting of a stick with a horse head that participants "ride."

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Riders 4 to 14 complete a course of jumps with their hobby horse, scored for time, and will incur one fault for every rail knocked down while on course. The top eight placing participants will be awarded ribbons for each division, and special awards will be given throughout the event.

DIVISIONS AVAILABLE:

Ages 6&U: Cross-rails; 18in.
 Ages 7-8: Cross-rails; 18in.
 Ages 9-11: 18in; 2ft.
 Ages 12-14: 2ft.; 2ft. 6in.

HOW DO I SIGN UP?

Visit Tryon.com/hobbyhorse to learn more and register. Participants MUST register online by 12:00pm on the day of competition to be eligible to compete for prizes.
