Seattle, WA
Hilton Seattle Airport and Conference Center

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2019 USPC East. The Pony Club program changes and impacts the lives of its participants daily through the development of riding, horse management, leadership, and sportsmanship skills. We are very excited to have this partnership with Tryon International Equestrian Center for our Championships East competition. Congratulations on being part of these 2019 Championships! We are delighted to have you here in North Carolina for this exciting and enriching experience.

These championships are about so much more than the competition that each of you will enjoy. They are about meeting new friends, facing interesting challenges, and sharing the experiences and almost certain differences that each of you brings to Tryon.

Many people worked together to make these championships successful and fun. So, I also want to thank each and every one of them. The whole Pony Club experience is built upon the work of dedicated and hard-working volunteers. I hope that each of you, as participants can make the time to thank those many volunteers who have made these competitions and experiences possible for you and your fellow Pony Club members.

I wish each of you success and hope that you have a lot of fun as you enjoy the discipline of your choice. As stated in our Pony Club Pledge, "...It is the enjoyment of the game well played, taking winning or losing in stride..." that is the key to making this a special experience. We in Pony Club are especially fortunate to not only have teams with which we work, but also, in the case of our mounted disciplines, to have our wonderful equine partners. Pony Club speaks a language of its own that is the envy of every other equestrian and youth development organization. So, represent your club and region proudly, and celebrate the Pony Club bond that brings us all together.

Sincerely,

H. Benjamin Duke III
President, United States Pony Clubs

PONY CLUB DISCIPLINES DURING CHAMPIONSHIPS

DRESSAGE

The French term for “training” is the harmonious development of the horse and rider in both mind and body, making the horse supple in their movements, a joy to ride, and beautiful to watch. Every horse, regardless of type or intended use, can benefit from this training. Competitions begin at the walk-trot level and continue through nine levels to Grand Prix.

EVENTING

Known as the Equine Triathlon because it includes three phases: Dressage, Cross Country, and Stadium. Originally developed in the calvarias of Europe as a test of the ideal military charger, Eventing has now evolved into an exciting sport attracting interest from all levels of sports enthusiasts.

GAMES

A fun mounted sport that teaches basic natural aids, physical coordination, self-confidence, and teamwork skills. Created by His Royal Highness Prince Philip, Games are supposed to encourage enthusiasm, participation, and training in young riders without the need of expensive ponies. It also fosters sportsmanship and the proper care of mounts in new and young members.

HORSE MANAGEMENT

Teaches responsibility and independence, and encompasses all things in horse care: health, maintenance, nutrition, and handling. At every Pony Club competition, riders compete in both the riding portion of the competition, as well as Horse Management. Competitors are scored on their ability to care for their horses, including barn area setup, turnout for themselves and their horses, and their equipment.

POLOCROSSE

Developed in Australia in the 1930s, it has been played internationally with great enthusiasm. Like lacrosse on horseback, Polocrosse develops a sense of strong self-confidence in riding ability while improving hand-eye coordination. This sport requires practice of ball handling skills such as bouncing, pick up, throwing, and catching the ball in the net of the racket.

QUIZ

Promotes a deep understanding and familiarity with the material presented at each testing level. Essentially a “question and answer” competition. Quiz is a fundamental and creative learning tool where members learn horsemanship and good horse care. It provides them with opportunities to display and learn good sportsmanship, leadership, stewardship, and teamwork.

SHOW JUMPING

Focuses on the agility and attention of the horse and rider as they navigate brightly colored fences. The jumps vary in height and width and may include water in which the horse must leap over, but not touch. Each course is intended to demonstrate energy, training, and obedience. The goal of the horse and rider is to negotiate the course without errors or disobediences.

TETRATHLON

An exciting four-phase sport comprised of running, swimming, riding, and shooting. Competitors must show good riding abilities as well as general athletic abilities. The development of Tetrathlon in Pony Club was encouraged by the US Modern Pentathlon and Olympic committees as a way to develop multi-talented athletes.

WESTERN DRESSAGE

Western Dressage is a fairly new discipline. Western Dressage promotes balance, rhythm, and carriage while using the training techniques from both classical dressage and western horsemanship. Western Dressage is taught with an emphasis on good horse management, knowledge of western equitation, turnout, and tack.
